DELIVERIES WARPLANES FOR R.A.F.

Monthly deliveries of warplanes to "the Royal Air Force have. doubled since January this year and are more than four times the figures recorded for January and February, 1938.

Sir Kingsley Wood states that May, proved a record month for aircraft production, which is "well ahead of schedule."

Further expansion of Britain's potential output will result from the operations of immense factories not yet in full production. including three new "shadow" factories for manufacture of geroengine parts. These will be located In the vicinity of Coventry and be managed by the Standard, Daimler and Rootes organizations respectively.

LOSSES ON NEW AIR LINERS

The destruction by fire of the flying-boat Connemara while being refuelled at Hythe; Southampton, means substantial loss for the market which specializes in the insurance of aircraft. The Connemara is believed to have been valued for insurance at £58,000, of which the machinery probably represents from about £16,000 to £20,000. Hope was expressed in the market that some salvage of the engines, at any rate, would be practicable.

The disaster followed rather closely a casualty to the British flying-boat Centurion in the Hoogly when landing at Calcutta on June 12 and the crashing of the flying-boat Challenger while alighting off Mozambique, in Portuguese East Africa, on May These three craft represent, in the aggregate, insured values of about £150,000. ··

It is one of the characteristics of developments in commercial aviation that the values of individual craft tend to increase, but that, as the number of the very costly craft is limited, one or two serious casualties may disturb an underwriting account.

'SAILING ALONG' AT MAJESTIC

The gayest and most ambitious of all of Jessie Matthews' musicals, "Sailing Along," opens to-day at the Majestic Theatre. This new, vehicle for the dancing star is a sprightly affair, well set to catchy music, and boasts an unusually splendid cast. It has the Hollywood finish, must have been expensive to make, and amply justifles the expense. All in all, it's swell entertainment.

Departing from the usual formula for musicals "Sailing Along" reveals Jessie as the dancing daughter of a barge-master, born and bred on the river, capable of taking a turn at the wheel, splicing a stay, or climbing slott with the best of the crew. Roland Young is very much in evidence as the eccentric millionaire whose hobby it is to discover geniuses.

The dance numbers are elaborate and original; the settings, natural and studio, quite breath-taking. Gaumont has really done itself proud on this one.

As for Jessie Matthews It is enough to say that she was never

U.S. GRANTS TO CHINESE EDUCATION

Thirteenth Report Of China Foundation

We have just received for review the Thirteenth Report of the China Foundation for the Promotion of Education" and Cuiture, completed last December.

"The report deals with the allocation of the remitted American Boxer Indemnity to educational institutions and research products during 1937-38.

Of especial interest is the effect of the war on the work of the Foundation. Tsing Hua University, its greatest responsibility, has lost its buildings and been forced to move from Peiping to Yunnan. The National Library of Peiping has made no book loans since July 1937. The Executive Committee was able to meet only once during the year, the Examination Committee not at all.

"The number of applications for fellowships and research grants for 1938-39," according to the Report, "decreased considerably as compared with previous years. A total of 20 new foreign fellowships and four research grants was made in June 1938 for the ensuing year. A glance at the distinguished list of Trustees and Officers for the year 1987-38 also brings home the great shifts that have taken place. THE POWERS' ALTERNATIVE COMPROMISE with Japan is impossible and any attempt at "appeasement so far as the Tokyo Government is concerned will not only fail to avert the Far Eastern crisis but will only encourage the Japanese to make further demands, according to Dr. Wang Chung-hui. The question confronting the western Powers, says the Chinese Minister of Foreign Affairs, is whether they maintain or relinquish their interests, acquired by treaties, in China in the face of encroachment by the Japanese.

POINTING OUT the gravity of the situation, Dr. Wang, whose views will receive a chorus of general approval both in this part of the world as well as in Europe and America, warns the Democracies that, in order to deprive them of their interests in China and in order to fulfil her ambition to dominate East Asia, Japan has anti-foreign movement in the "occupied areas." While the movement is directed principally against Great Britain, it aims at alienating the Powers from them one by one. Japan's policy of dominating the Asian Continent, the Chinese Foreign Minister pointed out, which remains open daily tion of the so-called "New Order in East Asia" is nothing but an attempt to alienate the interests of the foreign Powers.

AS A RESULT of the occupation of Hainan and the Sprattley Islands as bases of British, further advance, Netherlands colonies in the Pacific are menaced and pressure is being exerted upon the foreign Concessions in China with a view to their seizure." Tokyo's recent announcement of the blockade of the entire China Coast only imposes restrictions on the legitimate trade of third Powers in China and, since the closure of the Yangtze River about a year ago, there has been no sign of its reopening. It should therefore be fully realized by the western Powers that Japan's aggression in China is also directed against them, says far too much in the nature of Dr. Wang. It is the established policy of aggression of the Japanese militarists to make bolder and bolder advances and not to tolerate now come to call a halt to imperial Airways: the existence of interests of Tokyo's bluff. third Powers acquired by treaties. Japan's attempts to exclude the Western nations from trade with China come exactly a hundred years after China's own attempt to carry through an isolationist policy with a high hand.

It was in 1839 that the trouble with China about opium smuggling came to a head when Commissioner L'n compelled the destruction of 20,000 chests of oplum on board British ships in Canton with amusing interludes.

It was essentially a struggle for the right to trade, and the Treaty of Nanking, which settled it in August, 1842 established principles which are now being violently assailed by Japan.

Five ports were named which were to be open to British trade-Canton, Amoy, Foo-Chow-Foo, Ningpo, and Shanghai - and Hong-Kong was ceded.

Tientsin, which is now the focus of trouble, came into the public eye sixteen years later; for in the war of 1858 the British and French fleets sailed up the Pei-ho River as far as Tientsin and negotiations for peace and for the opening of more ports followed.

Even the Treaty of Tientsin brought only a short period peace; in 1859 trouble began again with some desperate fighting before in 1860 the port of Tlentsin was opened to British trade.

BRITAIN HAS A BAD: WEEK - END

BOMB OUTRACES AND FIRES

LONDON, July 3 (T/Ocean)-Britain passed through a bad week-end with no less than eight bomb outrages, one great flagration and one fire on board a ship being reported.

The bomb outrages took place in the luggage rooms of the railway stations at Derby, Leicester Birmingham, Stafford, Nottingham, Coventry, Warwick and Kettering. All occurred between the hours of three and seven yesterday morning and were all executed in the same manner—through the medium of time bombs.

It is generally assumed, owing to the similarity of the cases, that the illegal Irish Republican Army was responsible for all of them.

SUPERFICIAL CALM: DANZIG: SCENES IN IN CITY STREETS

"If Germany Wants War We Will Not Avoid It," Says Polish Press

DANZIG, July 3 (Reuter)—Herr Foerster, "leader of the Nazis in Danzig, speaking at a wildly cheering District Party rally, declared, in words addressed to Britain and her allies:

"We stand firm. We want to return to Germany and we are going to return to Germany. One word of the German Fuehrer's carries one-thousand times more weight with us than all the war cries and lying provocation in the world.

"In Danzig, no one need disturb himself-no measures by Poland can frighten Danzig. If the German Fuehrer brings freedom to Danzig, then this German population will stand together, as one man, in brazen loyalty to the Fuehrer and to Germany and it will be prepared for any sacrifices the German Fuehrer demands—sacrifices not only of goods, but of blood

"The encirclement by the powers prepared in opposition to all their theories of self-determination to go to war in order that right may not be right, but remain for ever wrong. They are ready to deliver Danzig to Poland rather than agree to the fulfilment of the desire of a solid Danzig population for a return to the Reich."

The streets of Danzig yesterday morning presented a the tension" behind the scenes is normal Sunday appearance, except for the conspicuous absence of men of militar, age and the uniformed figures among the strolling crowds. All such men are "on duty.

The only exceptions were the soldiers who were visiting the Free City for the re-union of the Second West Prussian Field Artillery, Regiment No. 38.

The former and present members of the Regiment marched from Hohesigen Barracks to the War Memorial for a short Commemoration Service" and were then dismissed.

There is a superficial calm, but reflected in the crowded barracks -which Danzig residents are not yet sufficiently accustomed to pass by without stopping to watch the drilling of the newly-landed and older inmates-anti-aircraft guns on Bishop's Hill, the higher pressure of reconditioning existing in the construction of new fortresses and barracks and the lightning landing of munitions at night time under a curtain of secrecy. Polish circles say that they know that all this is going on and can confidently wait. The Nazis, on the other hand, deny that they have any sinister intent.

. The present apparent deadlock in the Nazi-Polish contacts may be broken by the Polish representatives to the Senate in the near future.

EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS

On Saturday night, Danzig residents watched from Zoppot Pier an illuminated procession of the Polish war, merchant and fishing vessels through the bay to mark the climax of the Polish Eucharistic Congress which has been taking place, in "Gydnia during the last few 'days.

pared with Friday's closing rates. The market displayed a steady undertone with a good demand for "actuals" by consuming centres. There were also fair enquirles for futures by dealers and speculators in evidence. The better sentiment was attributed to more reassuring political news from Europe as well as to a continuance of encouraging business prospects in U.S.A., although Motor-car production showed a slightly more than anticipated decline for the week ending June 30, which however, was ignored by the market. Closing tone was quietly steady.

The market again displayed ar easy appearance at to-day's opening, with a lower adjustment of prices. However, a better tone was evinced later, and the market became quiet but firm. Prices advanced on trade and speculative buying. "Bear" covering also imparted some impetus to the advance: Some strength in "spots" was in evidence. However, uncertainty continued to prevail over the subsidy question. On the whole, price movements were a confined to narrow range.

SUCCESSFUL WINDING UP PETITION

Regarding the decision; of the Chungking Court Mr. Potter said there had been an appeal against that, but it had been heard and dismissed. As a result of the Chungking order, the activities of the Company would be illegal. void and criminal according to the laws of China.

Referring to an affidavit made Bunzaburo Matsumoto. counsel of the Marine Court of Dairen, in which it was stated. that the Dairen Kisen Kaisha had been appointed as agents of the Ching Kee by attorneys for Japanese and other shareholders Mr. Potter said it was illegal for a Chinese company to appoint a Japanese company to be its agents. when a state of war existed between the two countries.

APPOINTMENT DENIED

The appointment however, was denied in Mr. Jun-ke Choy's affirm-Mr. Potter produced a document purporting to have of the Company at Dairen, which had just reached Hongkong., and said that no documents had been produced to show the appointment of the D. K. K. before February 16. Neither was there any document to prove that the six ships were chartered to the D. K. K. before the commencement of the hostilities.

If any contracts or other commitments had ever been entered into, as Mr. Matsumoto alleged, such, engagements would now be illegal.

Mr. Potter dited many authorities in support of his arguments, and added that a shareholder had every right to restrain 's company from doing an ultra vires act though every shareholder but himself acquiesced in . it. Where lit was of fundamental importance, as it was in "the present case, the shareholder was entitled to have the company wound up.

Mr. Sheldon said the allegation that the company had ceased to carry on business was answered by the affidavit of Mr. Matsumoto where it said that the suspension of business in Hongkong was only temporary. He submitted that could not be sufficient ground for winding up.

But as they were still trading, the Chungking court's order was entirely ineffective. To follow such an order of a foreign court would be entirely would be like a lifeless trunk, opposed to natural justice.

Further, there was no authority in Support of the contention that a state of war existed between China and Japan. Mr. cited an arbitration case in England recently where a Foreign Office letter was produced which said the Government were not prepared to say a state of war existed between these two countries.

His Lordship: If I remember rightly, the Court in this case treated the Foreign Office with the scantiest respect!

The Chief Justice referred to local case where the Full Court of Appeal upheld the submission of certain seamen who, "holding that a state of war between China proceeds of the winding up. and Japan existed refused to

Decrease In Colony's Revenue

CREDIT BALANCE DOWN IN MAY

With the expenditure for May showing an excess of $79,750 over revenue, the credit balance of the Colony, after over one year, shows a slight decline. The balance at the end of May amounted to $16,178,561.25, as against $16,-285,310.90 at the end of April.

During the month of May expenditure reached $3,889,540, compared with an expenditure of $2,809,790 at the end of April,

The decline was also noticed in the revenue for the month as compared with May last year. In May 1938 the revenue totalled $3,164,367—at the end of May 1939 the revenue fell short by $354,579. Year's Total Up

Under the head of Duties, revenue showed an increase of over $200,000. Receipts from Post Office showed an increase of over $12,000 against May 1938, but, as was to be expected, the revenue from the Kowloon-Canton railway showed a big drop of nearly $100,-000 for the "month of May, amounting to only $67,752 against $165,776" a year ago.

Land Sales Decline Land Sales were also badly

As to the gargument that the Chungking court's order nugatory, Mr. Potter said he was not asking the Court to enforce make one of its own. The order could be enforced here, and there were substantial assets within the urisdiction.
